More Testimonials

CTI has been extremely invaluable during my job search. It's program and structure offers personalized one-on-one coaching tailored to specific needs. CTI also provides weekly Meetups where expert speakers in the employability field would share their knowledge and recent trends in the workforce.

Most of all CTI provided accountability and emotional support through the challenges of unemployment. I encourage anyone who is looking to make a job change or who is unemployed to come to a workshop and learn more about CTI to see if it is right for you.
